Chicago to Send a Team to California.

Series of Winter Games Arranged.

Tried to Scare a Barkeeper Hunters Drive into a Canal A Very Unlucky Family—Clew to Robbers.

Plenty of Football.

CHICAGO, December 2. Manager Stagg and Captain Allen of the University of Chicago team are considering a plan of a Christmas trip to the Pacific Coast for the University eleven. The plan contemplates games with Leland Stanford University, the champion of the Coast for this season; the University of California and the Reliance Athletic Club eleven.

It is thought that the team will be welcomed by the Coast elevens, especially at Stanford, because of the unique contest between teams of two universities which are not yet four years old. The railroads to the far west have been solicited for terms, and the California teams have been wired of the plan. They will probabably guarantee the expenses of the Chicago team, and in that case the chances will be very favorable for the trip.

All the men are highly in favor of it, and a Christmas trip to California would be a novel and agreeable journey to the whole football eleven. The Chicago team would, it is said, draw thousands of persons to the games.

Thrown From a Wagon.

YREKA, December 2.—While driving a four-horse team from Montague to his home at Little Shasta Saturday night, about 7 o'clock, John Cash, aged 30 years, was thrown from his wagon and instantly killed.

Cash had been to Montague for a load of grain, and upon nearing Hart's ranch on his way home the horses became frightened and ran the wagon heavily against a stump. The shock threw the young man headlong against a stone fence, crushing his skull.

Cash belonged to a well-to-do farming family of Little Shasta, which have seemingly had more than their share of misfortunes. The young man killed had long been lame, the result of a dog running between his legs, throwing him and dislocating his hip. A brother, Charles, has been afflicted with a diseased knee which keeps him on crutches for months at a time. A younger sister was bitten by a dog and died of hydrophobia. Numerous other accidents have befallen members of the family.

Hunters Drive into a Canal.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 2.—About 5 o'clock this morning Henry Thieland, Henry Hill, Louis Steinmiller and Emile Schilling left here in a four-seated wagon, drawn by a team of horses, for Miller's ranch, on the lower Stockton road, on a hunting expedition. They drove along Twenty-eighth street to Y street levee, and in the darkness drove over the embankment.

The entire outfit went into the narrow canal, which is twenty feet deep. Both horses were killed. The wagon fell on the men, and Steinmiller had one thumb broken, an ear cut off and was bruised. One of Thieland's hips is broken in two places. Hill and Schilling were badly cut and bruised, but no bones were broken.

Clew to Robbers.

PORTLAND, Ore., December 2. It is understood that an arrest will be made to-morrow in connection with the robbery of the Union Savings and Loan Association Friday night.

It is known that the police suspect a person who is well known in Portland, and who has heretofore borne an excellent reputation, but they refuse to disclose his name.

Tried to Scare a Barkeeper.

YUBA CITY, December 2.—Fred Klempp, a brewery-man of this place, was shot by his bartender last night while playing a practical joke.

Klempp wanted to scare the man, and entering the saloon—which is just across the river from here—with a mask over his face, he presented a pistol and told the barkeeper to throw up his hands.

The bartender, Henry Hadlich, drew a pistol and shot Klempp three times. None of the wounds are serious. No arrests have been made.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Clayton J. Leeds to Eliza J. Leeds, lot 6, block 29, Smith's subdivision, Mathew's tract.

Chas. A. and Alice C. Bailey to Belle Ryan, lot 7, block 137, corrected map of Raymond tract.

Juan and Juana Yaunza to Robert Yaunza, portion of Yaunza tract and portion of Plat 62, Rancho V and D Peralta.

At Home Again.

Town Clerk Woodsum has returned from his short fishing and hunting trip in the country. When it comes to telling fish stories you cannot get a word from him on the subject. With geese and ducks he is equal to the champion whist player. His shooting one eye out of thirteen ducks so that they turned round and round until they were dizzy enough to fall down and let him catch them, is only one of the series. No one doubts it, but many want to know what he done with them all, as they did not seem to be anywhere around when he alighted from the hunting conveyance. Ask him about it when you see him and he will answer quicker than it can be written.

FREEHOLDERS

At the Meeting Saturday Evening

A Complete Report of the Committee was Presented.

The Board will meet again this evening Heir to a Fortune A Leap for Life Accident at Dwight Way

The Freeholders.

At the meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Saturday evening the complete reports of all the committees were presented. That upon boundaries and officers recommended that there be seven wards, bounded as follows: First ward—All that part of the town lying north of the center line of College way and east of Sacramento street. Second ward

The part lying between the First ward and Durant avenue, and east of Sacramento street. Third ward—That part lying between the Second ward and Parker street and Kearny avenue and east of Sacramento street. Fourth ward—That part lying between the Third ward and the south boundary line of the town to Shattuck avenue, thence along Shattuck avenue to Prince street, and Prince street east of Sacramento street.

Fifth ward—That part lying south of Prince and Haskell streets west of Shattuck avenue and the boundary line of Berkeley, and east of San Pablo avenue. Sixth ward—The remaining portion of the town lying south of University avenue and west of Sacramento street. Seventh ward—The portion lying west of Sacramento street and north of University avenue.

The population in each of these wards is about the same. South Berkeley and Lorin each form a ward, and the portion of Butchertown within the town limits is made a part of one of the West Berkeley wards. In 1899, and every four years thereafter, the Board of Trustees shall relocate the ward lines, to make the population in each of them equal to the others, as far as practicable. The Treasurer, City Attorney, Clerk Marshall and Assessor, the Board of Trustees and the Board of Education are elective, and all other officers must have resided within the town three years prior to the time of their election or appointment.

The Committee on the Legislative Department recommended that the Trustees be elected one from each ward by the electors thereof, and that the Trustees elected must have been residents of their wards at least six months. The removal of a Trustee from his ward makes his position vacant. The president of the Board of Trustees shall be one of its members elected annually, and shall have a vote only in case of a tie, and shall have a veto power.

The president can be deposed at any time by the affirmative vote of five members of the Board. No ordinance granting a franchise shall be put on final passage within thirty days after its introduction. All ordinances must be published, and all that are now in force must be classified and printed in pamphlet form. No contract for lighting streets shall be made for a longer period than two years. The report of the committee upon the executive department makes it the duty of the president of the Board of Trustees to have a general supervision of the conduct of all town officers and to report to the Board of Trustees any delinquencies he may discover. He must, together with the chairman of the Finance Committee and the Town Clerk, count the cash in the hands of the Treasurer at least once every three months. The books and accounts of all town officers must be expeted every year. A vote was taken by the Freeholders by which it was decided to make the Treasurer ex-officio Tax Collector and the Town Engineer ex-officio Superintendent of Streets. The chair appointed the following as a committee upon revision: George D. Metcalf, W. K. Wier, H. L. Whitney, George D. Dorin and B. E. Underwood. Professor Jones was made chairman of the committee. The Freeholders will meet this evening.

Heir to a Fortune.

Robert Campbell, a young man formerly a resident of Oakland, but who for the past eight years has been engaged in mining in Idaho, arrived in Oakland yesterday from the latter place. Robert, or Bob Campbell, as he was called by his schoolmates in Oakland, is the only son of the late R. Campbell, who owned in early days about twenty acres or more of the land bounded by Telegraph avenue, Grove street and Caledonia avenue. The old house is still standing on the site upon which it was erected but the property has long since passed into the hands of other parties.

What brings Robert Campbell back to Oakland is in response to a letter received by him while in Idaho that an uncle had died in Australia and had left an estate of $15,000,000, and that Robert Campbell was probably the sole heir.

It is to be hoped that Bob will succeed in proving his claim to the millions, and in the event that he does that he will buy back the old homestead. It would be just like a play, success to you Bob.

Quite Accidental.

An accident occurred on Saturday evening last caused by two conveyances trying to pass a given point at the same moment. About half-past six o'clock in the evening a wagon loaded with bottled goods started to go across the electric railroad track on Telegraph avenue between Dwight way and Ashby avenue. The driver did not appear to have noticed the approach of an electric car. A collision occurred and motor man Squires was thrown about in a manner to inflict severe wounds upon his body. Archie Edgar who was on the forward part of the electric car was thrown off and quite badly injured. The horse was knocked down but not seriously hurt while the driver got some pretty severe bruises. The wagon, like the "one-hoss shay" dissolved in all its parts.

Dr. Eastman attended to the wounded people, and to-day soreness about all that could be complained of. From all that could be learned about the occurrence, it seems as if some one was guilty of carelessness.

Leap for Life.

Johnny Bankhead, who is well known in Berkeley and better known in Oakland as the Foreman of Truck in that city, together with a party of friends, one day last week went on a fishing excursion on the old Webster street bridge.

The party took along "bait" and refreshments other than "saline aqua." The hooks were baited and the party started in to catch the first fish. For two hours, during which time not a word was said, but long "draughts" were taken, not a fish was caught; finally J. B. got a bite, a tremendous bite—it was a flounder—the boys know the rest.

After the Constables.

The Grand Jury will go into secret session again on Tuesday, and although its final report may not be presented for some time yet, the document is causing no small amount of uneasiness in certain quarters. It is a well-known fact that Expert H. K. Snow has been delving into certain methods of expending the public money in this county, but it is not known to a certainty just what accounts he is investigating.

It is rumored, however, that his work is connected with the fees of certain Constables. Hence the uneasiness.

The Correct Thing.

An article was published in Saturday's edition of the GAZETTE in relation to deputy constables delinquencies. As the case to which reference was made came up in Judge Penwell's court, an opinion might have been formed that the officers referred to belonged in the western portion of the town. This is not so. The party referred to is an officer appointed to his position by the Constable elect of East Berkeley.

There has been no occasion, which has come to the cognizance of the reporter of this paper, where any constable or his deputy in West Berkeley has not always attended to his duties promptly, faithfully and in strict accordance with the law.

OUR UNIVERSITY BOYS.

Our University students have enough to answer for in this world without having to atone for other people's sins. Much ado has been made in the city papers about the conduct of young men, who under the garb of collegeship, committed acts beyond the bounds of strict propriety. It would be singular that if among so large a body of young men there would be found not a few who lose all control of their animal spirits and to a degree bring odium upon their classmates. It is not right that all should be considered bad because of the inadvertency of a few. If they are to be judged in this manner, why not say that as some are good all are good?

There are times when fun is enjoyed by the most of men. Go lightly in your condemnation, and think if there has not been sometime in life when your actions might not have been open to the same criticism.

The GAZETTE is no defender of practices that even a boy would condemn when the case was brought soberly to his mind.

There is every reason to believe that the students within themselves and for their own protection, as a class of people who have a high idea of what is honorable and good, will take the immediate matter of indiscretions on the part of their companions and enforce a discipline which will bring the too wild dispositions within guard. The world looks to these growing governors of the future to keep their escutcheons bright.

NOT ROOM ENOUGH.

On account of the public demand for items of local interest and space which can be used to greater advantage to the patrons of the GAZETTE, the President's message is unavoidably crowded out. Comments may be made upon it. At times, however, comment is entirely unnecessary.

If there can be any dependence placed upon the reports, civil service doctrine is making a headway slowly but surely. It cannot be thoroughly identified with the government service any too soon. Honesty with thorough competency will make a little world to live in which it will be a happiness to strive for. Let the millenium be at hand quickly.

AS A LARGE number of men comprising the Fifty-third Congress have been elected to stay at home, it is very probable that but little will be done in the second session except passing appropriation bills.

IT IS NOW stated that the alleged Governor Budd will make appointments of women to fill positions appropriate to the sex. He is making a strong pull for popularity.

City Dads.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees will occur this evening. There are many matters of importance to come up, and the members will have enough to take up their attention to keep them in session to quite a late hour. Meetings of the Trustees of late have been sufficiently interesting to attract a large number of people who are interested one way or another in the many different matters which affect a town growing as fast as Berkeley is. It is a good manifestation to see so many of the town's responsible citizens present and occasionally take some part in the proceedings.

The Board has always manifested a good disposition toward having an expression of public opinion before them on all important matters. This is as it should be. In this manner the governing powers are enabled to find the ideas of that portion of the community they have been elected to represent.

The people look to their representatives for a good and economical management of the trust imposed upon them, and there is no doubt but what the gentlemen selected will act in the peoples' interest to the best of their judgment.

Sympathy.

Hon. James Budd appears to have bit off a little more than he can chew comfortably for a little while to come. Such is the grief that power brings upon us. It is one thing to be placed at the head of a State government and another to manage the political sharks who hover around just as soon as the bait is smelt of. The Governor will have the sympathy of everyone who has had the slightest experience in such matters.

The bark "American Girl" is daily expected with a cargo of lumber for H. W. Taylor & Co. Southeast winds may retard the passage but builders looking for particular sizes may rest easy that the vessel will arrive very soon.

Mrs. Alice Kelly and daughter, Bernice, of Catherine street, have returned from a pleasant visit with Petaluma friends.

Call on E. H. Driggs for your oil and gasoline stoves. He will suit you in prices.

A change in the weather seems to have had a beneficial effect as far as sickness is concerned in Berkeley. Those afflicted have become convalescent, and but very few cases from small causes are reported anew.

If you want a nice suit of clothes call on Mikkelsen & Berry, 2124 Center street, Berkeley. All kinds of repairing done.

The overland train this morning was a trifle late. Judging from a small amount of snow remaining upon the tops of some of the cars, it is presumed that there was some cold weather experienced on some portion of the route.

Get your watches, clocks and jewelry repaired at R. A. Curry's, formerly Scott's, 2124 Center street, Berkeley. Diamonds, watches and jewelry of all kinds on hand. Work guaranteed.

J. D. Haggerty, whose house was burned out sometime ago in Berkeley, was in town yesterday. He moved to Belmont with his family but does not forget his many years residence in the University town, where more graduates of the State school know him than any other citizen in town.

Keep your lawns green by using the lawn mowers and garden hose handled by Shmitt & Zehner at city prices. Repairing of all kinds.

There are a number of the students who are working their way in the University who wish work during the vacation. The Students' Aid Society asks that all work that can be given it for these students be laid before it between now and the holidays.

Mrs. Maud Scott, a San Francisco woman was arrested last night in Oakland for disturbing the peace at the home of Walter J. Laymance, the defeated Democratic candidate for County Treasurer. The woman has been following Laymance about a great deal and it is said that she attempted to shoot him for discarding her. The arrest was made at midnight by Mr. Laymance. The police declare that they know nothing about the case and Mr. Laymance will not talk.

It was reported on the street this afternoon that Carter, the umpire of the great foot ball match, had reconsidered his decision given on Thanksgiving Day, and has now declared that he will allow a touchdown for the U. C. team and also allow them a kick for a goal. If this be true the game will again result in a tie and the next game will be a victory for the University of California. The students are very much excited over the report.

Weiss beer is manufactured to suit the taste of connoisseurs and the delicate flavor varies. Joseph Schwarz's of San Francisco commenced the manufacture of it in a small way and persevered until its excellence made the public purchase it. Frank Gimbel has secured the sole agency for West Berkeley and people desiring a fine article will always find it at his place of business on University avenue, corner of Sixth street.

The trial of Elia Guiterre for selling liquor without a license came up in Judge Penwell's Court this afternoon at 2 o'clock. As the case is before a jury it is not likely to be decided until a late hour in the day.

Think of it.

Under the management of the present administration the financial portion of the U. S. Government is falling behind nearly as fast as at any time during the rebellion. Receipts are decreasing and expenses are increasing. There must be an end to this ere long or the money disturbance, which has hung over the country like a black cloud for so many years, will become like a pall over everybody thrown out of existence purely from mortification. There must be a remedy. What physician will administer it? Give us the antidote quick.

Somewhat Ancient.

Patti and Susan Anthony are still on the play road giving farewell entertainments. In a recent appearance of the former in London she appears pretty well down in the list, when the criticisms on different performances are published. How the mighty have fallen! Possibly this state may have a calling of her. Our people pray for almost everything, but good Lord deliver us from any such afflictions.

Derailed.

As the morning freight train was nearing the station at West Berkeley a sudden spreading of the rails, probably caused by the late rain, made the engine jump the track, and it was found impossible to pull it on again, as no detachable frog was handy. A switch engine was telephoned for and as soon as possible came from the mole. It was almost three hours before matters could be set right for the cars to move northward. Happening after the principal passenger trains had passed to the west, the delay was more annoying than anything else.

West End Club.

The residents of West Berkeley and in fact all those interested in its progress must not forget that the formation of the new improvement company will take place on Thursday evening next, at Paine & Dickieson's real estate office on University avenue. In case the room is not sufficiently large there is no doubt but what Beacon Engine Company will give the citizens the privilege of using their room, which is sufficiently large to accommodate all who may be pleased to attend. As the formation of this club is a very important matter to the West end it is essential to have as many present as possible. All property owners should not fail to attend.

Respectfully to Mrs. A.

When, in a spirit of mischief, I penned the lines that appeared in the GAZETTE a few days ago, I was laboring under a delusion. I thought I was Commissioner Wade Hampton and was answering a sting which I received from "Prattle" some two or three months ago. When I came to myself and saw what I had written, I concluded it would be ungenerous for me to allow Hampton to be blamed for my misdeeds. I accordingly erased his name from the foot of the page and substituted my own initials. That night W. A. Nash of the GAZETTE burglarized my premises and carried off the previous document. Had he not done so my few poor lines would never again have seen the light of day, or rendered me subject to your gentle reproof. In parenthesis, I would say that I admire Bierce, I admire his "Prattle," I respect and admire the unflinching daring of the man, who, when he takes up the lash, strikes fearlessly and spares not, and in my poor simple way would pay him this tribute. That his absence from the ranks of journalism would cause as great a void and be as much of a loss as it would have been many years ago from the ranks over which "Old Glory" floated. But I still maintain that he is as open to criticism as some of those he has judged and criticized.

Gentle lady, why reprove me
If a few remarks I make
On one, whose cuts and criticizing
Seem at times with heat surprising
To come from Satan's fiery lake.

Gentle lady, you're mistaken
If, thinking for one moment, I
Would take upon myself to chasten,
Or try with my poor pen to hasten
Bierce's journey to the sky.

Or to think my feeble criticizing
Would cause him worry, care or pain,
Why, if I burnt him to a cinder
Nothing in this world would hinder
Him from rising up again.

Yes, I will accept his teachings
And his prattlings and his preachings,
Tho' at times they may offend;
For withal we must admire him,
And may his genius still inspire him
So to prattle to the end.

Lady, you have quoted Scripture,
I to him would quote the same,
Quote the Savior's words to mankind,
Words he uttered to the unkind
Pharisees, who to him came,
Came and brought unto the Savior
A woman, charged with bad behavior,
Mark His words of heavenly wisdom
Which He to us all has shown:
Let him without fault among you
Rise and cast the first sharp stone.

'Tis not well, our sorrow heeding,
To let the gall o'erflow the sweet
That is found in every nature,
Sorrows one and all must meet.
One word more, dear, gentle lady,
From my standpoint I've not budged,
Unto Bierce, I'd give this precept,
"Judge not that ye be not judged."

G. N. L.

The Kindergarten.

There is quite a large number of people interested in the kindergarten system of teaching in West Berkeley and the little school, but recently started on Eighth street and University avenue, has apparently been quite successful. All of those people who look kindly upon matters of this kind are cordially invited to attend a meeting in the school room tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon.
